NEW POPE APPEARS, BLESSES PEOPLE.

Cardinal della Volpe appeared on the balcony with Mgr. Capostosti bearing the Pope's cross on his right, and pronounced the ritual announcing the election of Cardinal della Chiesa. To this he added that the Pope had chosen the name of Benedict XV. Again the crowd of several thousand persons cheered, and at once began to make their way into the Basilica to hear the benediction of the new Pontiff.

At 11.45 A. M. the new Pope appeared on an inner balcony of St. Peter's, clad in his pontifical robes. The balcon; was hung with red velour and a heavy golden fringe decorated the railing. The Pontiff pronounced the Apostolic benediction to the kneeling crowd below and immediately afterwards withdrew and entered his apartments.

The election of Pope Benedict was on the ninth ballot. When the scrutiny of votes to-day showed the election of Cardinal della Chiesa, the Secretary of the Conclave, Masters of Ceremonies and the Sacristan of the Vatican were at once admitted to the Sistine Chapel. In acLeft on Bases—Boston 6, Philadelphia cordance with the old traditions the Cardinal Deacon, accompanied by the heads of the other orders of the Cardinals, presented themselves and asked whether the election was accepted. With the reply in the affirmative, the canopies over the thrones of all other Cardinals dropped to the floor, that of the newly elected Pontiff alone remaining in place. With the admission of Cardinal della Chieva's priest the new Pontiff was then garbed in the cordance with the old traditions the Cardinal Deacon, accompanied by the of Cardinal della Chiesa's priest the new Pontiff was then garbed in the white robe which was in readiness in a cabinet adjoining the chapel.

CARDINALS PAY PONTIFF HOMAGE. Attired in his robes as head of the Church, Pope Benedict then ascended the temporary Papal throne, where he received the first adoration of the Cardinals and then gave his first benediction. The Cardinals first knelt, then kissed the foot of the new Pontiff, then his hand and at last were embraced by him.

These ceremonies concluded, the ring of St. Peter, which had been in charge of the Cardinal Camerlengo, was presented to Pope Benedict. Precedent prescribed that the Cardinals should then retire to their cells ATHLETICS intil public announcement of the election was made. The walls of the Conclave were then broken.

The new Pope, whose whole training since he was ordained a priest Dec. 21, 1878, has been in the diplomatic service of the Church, was created Cardinal only May 25 last. As Secretary of the Nunciatore in Spain from 1882 to 1887 he showed such aptitude for his special duties that he was atled to Rome as chief side to the late Cardinal Rampolla, Papal Secretary of State, and grew to be regarded as one of the most resourceful and skilful of the diplomatic staff of the Vatican. Allies Furiously Fight On but Are Expected to Retire Again, While Victorious Invaders Are Bringing Up Their 30-Ton Guns to Shell City.

AMIENS IS CAPTURED BY THE GERMAN TROOPS

Gen. Gallieni, Greatest Strategist in France, Has Been Put in Supreme Command of the Defense of Paris and Will Act Independently of Field Marshal Joffre.

FRENCH REPORT ON THE ALLIES.

PARIS, Sept. 3 [Associated Press].-An immense and complicated system of entrenchments is being constructed outside the city. It is reported that the engineers in charge of the work are keeping several hundred thousand men busy. Gen. Gallieni, Military Governor of Paris, to-day issued o the following proclamation to the inhabitants of Paris: 'The members of the Government of the Republic have left Paris In order to give a new impetus to the defense of the nation. I have been ordered to defend Paris against the invader. This order I will fulfil to the end."

Only two gates in Paris are open to-day-Porte Maillot. on the northwest side, and Porte de Bercy, on the southwest. They are defended by barricades and strongly guarded.

It is reported that Amiens was captured by Germans last Tuesday after three days of fighting.

[A dispatch from Paris to the United Press says that before evacuating Amiens the allied troops are reported to have blown up the railway tunnel and to have destroyed a large space along the highway to the south by blowing it up with dynamite. The allies then withdrew in order from the positions just to the westward of the town. The Uhlans then rode in. The main forces of the Germans did not enter the city but passed around it, continuing their movement toward Paris.] [Amiens is the capital of the Department of Somme. It is 70 miles directly north of Paris. It is a manufacturing city and has a population of 90,000. It is on the line of the railroad to Boulogne and about 50 miles to the west of La Fere and other points in the Department of Aisne, where there has been fighting during the past few days between the allied armies and the Germans.] PARIS, Sept. 3 [United Press].-Events of the next fortyeight hours probably will determine whether Paris is to be besieged. If the Germans can push forward as far in that time as they have in the last two days they will be in contact with the outer lines of the capital's defenses,

Whether Paris is besieged or not, it will be the centre of the pivotal operations that are planned to follow any further retreat of the allied left wing, The great thirty-ton Krupp guns, which were so serviceable in smothering out the Namur forts, are being moved south, Instead of horses the Germans are using enormous traction engines to being the guns forward.

The heaviest fighting on the French front to-day we
